Raider Golf News

On Tuesday, April 11, the ACHS Raider Golf Team traveled to Altavista Country Club to meet the Colonels of Altavista. After a nine hole match the Raiders had suffered their first defeat, 174-178. Low medalist the match was Ronnie Robinson, with a 38, while Gordon Lawson carded a 46.

Then on Thursday of that same week the Raiders met the Brookville Bees at JRCC in a 14 hole match. The Raiders upped their record to 3-1 by defeating Brookville 275 to 276. Golfers for Appomattox scoring well were Ronnie Robinson, R. L. Harris, Gordon Lawson and Reed Johnson.

Places Second In Softball Tourney

In their first outing of the 1978 softball season, O'Brien Equipment Co. placed second in the Atkin's Realtors tournament in Farmville.

Starting on Friday night, April 7, O'Brien turned in a good defensive performance in defeating Cumberland Sandwich Shop 9-5 followed by a 10-8 victory over the Blackstone A's at 1 p.m. Saturday. Sunday at noon they took on previously undefeated Terry Creek's and with an excellent offensive display picked up their third win 15-5 under the slaughter rule. The game was called after five innings. Sunday at 4 p.m. they suffered their first defeat of the double elimination tournament at the hands of Seay Milling Co. of Dillwyn. In a close game with outstanding team effort, O'Brien lost 17-16 in the bottom of the seventh inning. Playing their third game of the day, starting at 8 p.m. O'Brien defeated C. C. & Co. of Chase City by a score of 23-18 and advanced to the finals against Seay Milling Co. a team that was still undefeated.

After playing three games in a little over eight hours the Appomattox players were tired but with outstanding defense and timely hitting they scored another victory and avenged an earlier loss by downing Seay Milling 12-8 forcing yet another game since each team had now lost one.

The final game got underway at 10 p.m., the fifth game of the day for O'Brien Equipment Co. and the team was understandably exhausted. They played on sheer desire but this was not enough and Seay Milling won the game and the tournament 24-9. The local team captured second place and came away with many smiles and good memories.

Steve Almond walked away with the home run trophy with eight home runs in six games. Eleven of the 15 players hit one or more home runs in the tournament. Hitting was led by Ray Tweedy with 17/23 for a .739 average. He was followed by Hugh Watts, 11/16, .688; Bobby Layne, 17/26, .654; Billy Watts, 8/14, .571; Steve Almond, 12/22, .546; Phillip Clay, 3/6, .500; Dennis Totty, 12/25, .480; Don Guill, 12/25, .480; Jimmy Franklin, 5/11, .455; Billy Austin, 10/25, .400; Buddy Wilcox, 8/20, .400; Earl Martin, 10/27, .370; Joel Pillow, 5/14, .357; Robert Martin, 0/1; and Fred Godsey, 0/1. As a team, O'Brien had 142 hits in 256 at bats for a .555 team average.

Making Family Life More Relaxed

COMMON SENSE HELPS MAKE FAMILY PLANNING EASIER

*By John Barlow Martin, M.D.

Family planning is on the rise. A recent study of contraceptive behavior, the federally-sponsored report by the Center for Health Statistics, showed that the proportion of married couples with a woman of child-bearing age practicing contraception rose from 50% in 1960 to 70% in 1973.

The most widely used contraceptive is the birth control pill, a combination of two hormones (synthetic estrogen and progesterone) which together mimic the woman's reproductive cycle. Though very effective, fear of side-effects (an increased risk of developing blood clots and strokes, as well as concern over a higher heart-attack rate in pill users over 40) has caused many women to abandon orals.

One alternative, the IUD, can also be used successfully. But, again, problems such as severe cramping, between-period spotting, heavy menstrual bleeding, possibility of infection or of expelling the IUD without knowing it (and risking pregnancy) have caused some women to look askance on this method.

Many women are relying once again on "barrier" methods (procedures that stop the sperm from entering the cervix, thus preventing fertilization of the egg).

One of the oldest barrier methods is the diaphragm, but some women find this tricky to insert.

Another barrier method, one easier to manipulate, is contraceptive foam. Over one and one half million women now use this method, which is 97% effective.

According to the makers of Emko Foam—the innovators of contraceptive foam—it must be used correctly. But that's easy—follow package instructions.

The foam spreads easily to form a barrier preventing sperm from entering the uterus, and it contains chemical ingredients that stun sperm, inhibiting their progress.

Because foam contains no hormones, there are no serious side-effects. This birth control method is considered so safe, a visit to the doctor isn't necessary—neither is a prescription.

If the Pill or IUD is a woman's main method of birth control, is there still a way foam can help her?

● If the woman starts using the Pill later than the fifth day of her menstrual cycle or immediately after giving birth, foam can give this added protection during the first cycle.

● If she forgets to take one or two pills, and there is a risk she might be pregnant, she should use foam (or the diaphragm) during the remainder of her cycle. Studies show that there is an increased risk of birth defects if a woman continues taking the hormonal birth control pill before she realizes she is pregnant.

● If she is planning to become pregnant, she should wait three months after discontinuing oral contraceptives before trying to conceive (again, to eliminate the rare but real chance of pill-related birth defects). Foam can provide an effective interim contraceptive.

● If a woman is traveling, and runs out of pills, it's good to know that foam is available without prescription at drugstores around the world.
